DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 1-23 are still rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Samay et al (Fig. 1).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 2/16/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that Samay et al fails to show or suggest a first circuitry connected at one end to the power transistor and at another end to a relatively low frequency shorting circuitry. Examiner totally disagrees with this statement. In contrast to the applicant's arguments, one end of the first circuitry (L7, C7, L5, C5) of Samay et al is connected to a drain of the power transistor Q1 and another end of the first circuitry (L7, C7, L5, C5) of Samay et al is connected to a relatively low frequency shorting circuitry (C7 is connected to a ground). Applicant further argues that the Samay et al fails to disclose the first circuitry having a length which is substantially less than a quarter wavelength of the different frequencies. Again, as pointed out in the previous office action, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have implemented the specific values of the components of the claims since such values have not been shown to have any criticality.

Art Unit: 2817

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
